Raindrop Technique Discharge Instructions

Your pet has received a Raindrop treatment today. The oils used during this technique today will begin working right away and often animals and their humans may start to see/feel a difference a short time after completion. However it is possible over the next couple of days your pet may be a little more tired than usual, which can be expected during the detox process. There are a couple of things you need to follow over the next 24-48 hours.

1. Please allow your pet to rest as much as they need or want too.
2. Please make sure they have access to plenty of fresh water.
3. An increase in water intake means they may need to go outside more often.
4. Do not bathe your pet for the next 24 hours.
5. For horses, do not place a heavy blanket on them for several hours afterwards.
6. Do Not allow the horse to be in direct sunlight for several hours after treatment.
7. Please do not ride the horse until at least the following day.
8. If your pet becomes itchy or red at any of the drop sites, please apply a carrier oil such as olive or coconut oil for further dilution. Do NOT attempt to wash off or dilute with water. Water will cause the essential oils to drive deeper and will cause further irritation.

The Young Living Essential Oils used today include Valor (for balance and relaxation,) Oregano, Thyme, V6 (a blend of carrier oils that reduces possible irritation from several of the hotter oils,) Basil, Cypress, Copaiba, Wintergreen, and Marjoram. Depending on what we were supporting today, sometimes an additional oil or 2 may be used after the Cypress. Please see your pet's plan for more information.

For optimal effects your pet may require multiple treatments. Recommendations can be found on your pet's plan. Your pet's next Raindrop treatment is scheduled for:

_____. A $40 cancellation fee will be billed for no show appointments.
